babr INSOLVENCY COMMERCIAL FINANCE DEBT RECOVERY

What to expect from your initial consultation?

Our initial consultations are free, without obligation and are completely confidential.

It's a judgment free space for us to listen, understand and work with you to confirm the best way forward.

Virtual or on the phone

We generally hold all our initial consultations virtually via Microsoft Teams or if you prefer, on the phone. This allows us to coordinate a meeting quickly and provide you with the advice you need, wherever you are.

Feel free to include a key advisor (such as an accountant), colleague, or stakeholder for support. Their presence can provide additional insights and help you feel more comfortable.

What information will you need?

We understand that you might not have all the information to hand, but come with what you can and estimates are fine. As a guide, it's useful for us to know:

- Background situation and challenges faced (which can just be explained)
- Assets
- Liabilities (A list of those owed money, including any security or personal guarantees given)
- HMRC position (amounts owed or refunds due)
- Any creditor pressure (CCJs or threats of action)
- Any director's loans
- Employee position
- Recent accounts, cashflow and/or profit forecasts
- Key stakeholders and advisors
- What you hope to achieve
- Any other relevant information
